Judge Abbitt Takes Oath

The Honorable George F. Abbitt, Jr., receives his oath, above administered by Judge William Old of the Thirty-Seventh Circuit in impressive ceremonies held at Appomattox Court House Monday at 4 p. m. The court room was crowded during the ceremony. Judge Charles F. P. Crawley, in opening court for the occasion paid tribute to the late Judge Joel W. Flood, whom Judge Abbitt succeeds. Senator Charles S. Moses introduced Judge Old.

Bank Of Appomattox Considers Merger With Fidelity National

William W. Burke, President of The Bank of Appomattox Appomattox, Va., and Elias Richards, Jr., President of the Fidelity National Bank, Lynchburg, Va., are announcing a proposal to merge the two banks into the Fidelity National Bank, Lynchburg, Va.

The suggested merger has been approved by the Boards of Directors of both banks, and informative letters have been mailed to all stockholders.

The plan calls for the issuance of ten thousand (10,000) shares of Fidelity National Bank stock in exchange for seventy-five hundred (7,500) shares of The Bank of Appomattox stock; on the basis of one and one-third shares of Fidelity National stock for each share of The Bank of Appomattox stock presently held.

The proposed merger is subject to the approval of the stockholders of both banks, the Comptroller of the Currency and other supervisory and controlling authorities. Stockholders' meetings will be called in the near future.

The present management and personnel of The Bank of Appomattox would continue to serve, with William W. Burke as a Vice President of the Fidelity National Bank, and the Board of Directors of The Bank of Appomattox serving as an Advisory Board.

The Bank of Appomattox has grown with this trade area in providing uninterrupted services since its founding on April 8, 1901.

The Fidelity National Bank, the oldest bank in Lynchburg has served that City and the surrounding area with distinction for almost a century. The Charter under which it operates was issued on August 3rd., 1865, only four months after the "Peace" at Appomattox.

"Appomattox Is a Growing Town", and in this merger proposal The Bank of Appomattox is joining hands with Fidelity National Bank will provide many additional and expanded banking facilities. It will give Fidelity National Bank fifteen (15) locations in our Central Virginia Area: Appomattox would have all of the benefits of a Full Service Bank, such as Trust Services, etc; and direct affiliation with banking resources of approximately $20,000,000.00.

This merger proposal is based primarily upon a long established policy of providing sound and progressive banking services.

Sabin Vaccine Continues To Protect County

Sabin Vaccine is kept at the Appomattox county Health Center. It continues to give protection to those who for some reason or other failed to receive the three doses of oral vaccine given here in the fall of '63, Jan. and March, '64. It is estimated that about 85 per cent of the county's population was given at least one dose of the Sabin vaccine. Each individual must receive all three doses of Sabin oral vaccine to be protected against the three known types of virus which cause poliomyelitis.

One New Home Plus Additions Adds $9,300 To Bldg. Total

Building permits totaling $9,300 were issued in Appomattox county during June by Commissioner of Revenue John C. Caldwell. Total for the year is approximately $249,535, a decrease from 1963's half-year total of $305,450.

During the past month permits for one home and three additions were obtained. Lacy Mayberry was issued the home building permit, with additions planned by Thomas E. LeGrand, Claiborne Inge, of Appomattox and Fred Stone, of Stonewall.

"Everyone is not obtaining permits BEFORE they build," said Commissioner Caldwell, "and Section 58-766 Code of Virginia requires that such a permit be obtained.'

Piedmont Area Scouts To Hold Camp July 17-19

Herman Roediger, of Danville, activities chairman of the Piedmont Area Council, has announced a special week end program built around an American Heritage theme will be held July 17-18-19 at Appomattox.

A special camporee ground opposite the Old Appomattox Court House has been set aside for 2,000 boys and leaders who will participate in the American Heritage Jamboree - Camporee. Roediger said a tent community of 2,000 will spring up overnight. The general public is invited to visit the program and participate in the heritage program.

A special tour of Appomattox and a new film, "Sunset at Appomattox," will be shown continuously during the week end.

Roediger said, "The program will help the boys and leaders participating and the visitors to know and love America through learning more about the principles and history of our democracy."

Each district and division of the council will set up their tent communities in their reserved sections. A guide will aid visitors in visiting the units from their communities.

Rescue Bldg. Needs 5 Rounds

Appomattox Rescue Squad members, reporting through Doug Seamster, said Tuesday that it will take about five more "rounds" of cinderblock to finish the "block work" on their new building. The Squad expressed appreciation to J. E. Jamerson and Sons for their good cooperation in the building, now about one-third complete. Target date for completion is September 1

Along with the Squad's work in building their new home, they answered eleven calls in June. Heart attacks led the list, with three county residents stricken. Two auto wrecks and incidental calls completed the list. Eighty-six man hours were spent, and 715 miles of travel chalked up.

Presents First Cases Wednesday

Harry Gordon Lawson, 32, Appomattox attorney son of Mrs. Rachel P. Lawson and the late Mr. J. Raymond Lawson was named Commonwealth Attorney for the County of Appomattox in one of the first official acts of the newly appointed judge of the Fifth Circuit, the Honorable George F. Abbitt.

Before his appointment to the judgeship Abbitt served sixteen years as Commonwealth Attorney for the county.

The new Commonwealth Attorney is a 1950 graduate of Appomattox High School. He attended the U. of Va. for one year, then volunteered for the Navy, serving four years. He returned to the U. of Va. in 1955, received a BS in Commerce in 1958 and then entered the University's Law School earning his law degree from the University in June 1961.

After graduation he was associated with the firm of Rhoades and Jennings, Lynchburg, until January 1963, at which time he was appointed substitute county judge for Appomattox County and entered into private law practice here.

Lawson is president of the Appomattox Jaycees, and a steward in Memorial Methodist Church.

He is married to the former Louise Burnett. They have two children, Harry Gordon, Jr., and Deborah Louise.
